Natural, Relaxed, Wedding Storytelling

Congratulations!

Firstly, it's my chance to say congratulations on your engagement and deciding to get married!

I know that choosing your photographer is one of the most daunting decisions when it comes to planning. Hopefully the information on the next few pages will be helpful when it comes to working out what I'm all about and what I can bring to your big day.

About me

The main thing that you get if you book me to photograph your big day - is me!

With over 13 years experience and more than 500 weddings photographed, I like to think that I've seen almost everything and know how to cope with anything that is thrown at me.

Whether it's a low-key elopement or a huge party in the country, I absolutely love weddings of all shapes and sizes. Having a front row seat to capture all of those special moments is something that still gives a huge buzz.

I love working with couples who want really stunning imagery produced in a very natural and unobtrusive way - you won't find me asking you to do crazy bridal magazine fashion poses for 2 hours at your wedding, promise!

Investment

So just how much does it all cost?
